

PORTABLE ATELIER

Philippe Nigro,

The Portable Atelier desk, with its light aesthetics, linear design and flap-open top, designed by Philippe Nigro for Driade in 2016 and reissued this year, increasingly acquires a domestic connotation and can be perfectly integrated into any environment. The Portable Atelier desk, accompanied by a comfortable stool, comes in new colours and materials and is accessorized with a useful Driade-branded kit consisting of a pencils and notepad. The new version of Portable Atelier is delivered in a light and compact packaging with the components of the desk which can be easily and quickly assembled.

Desk with a four-leg frame made of press-bent sheet metal painted with polyester powder in matt black and a top made of wood fibre particles painted in white with a matt finish. One part of the top can be opened "flap" to gain access to a storage "basin" prepared with slots for the passage of electrical sockets and PC connection cables. Leg connecting crosspieces in beech lacquered in white to match the top.
