

VENUS

Fabio Novembre,

Novembre draws his inspiration from the wooden crates used by museums to transport statues and transforms them into graceful design objects. It has been classified as a bookcase but a different point of view may regard Venus as the statue of a goddess. Both opinions are correct and interconnected. Venus is both things: art i.e. the possibility of enjoying its beauty, and function, an essential part of design.

Bookcase with five shelves in natural oak with sawn effect. Support elements in solid oak. Sculpture in recomposed marble in white color. Indoor use only.
