

ARABIA

Jacquard-woven embossed rug with a rectangular shape made from mixed vintage-look fire-resistant yarns.

ARABIA is the reduced-scale reproduction of a fragment of the largest rug in the world. It was commenced in 1903 by order of the Sultan of Persia and was completed only in 2009. The geometric pattern echoes the typical arabesque shapes in a gear-like interplay of stars and floral motifs. The rug composition is a blend of cotton, acrylic chenille and polyester.

ARABIA can be placed in the living room or in the dining area to add a Middle Eastern touch.
