

UPTOWN

A rug like a picture frame which puts a contemporary spin on the rationalist images of the twentieth century. The sharp contrast between the tobacco brown and ash grey clearly outlines a bold austere personality, but also bespeaks an elegant aesthetic appearance which is suited to light-filled spaces and cosy intimate atmospheres alike. Uptown is machine-made and both the fleece and the structure are made from synthetic fibres (polyester and polypropylene), but with special ultra-resistant processing that yields a “hand-made” effect.
