Colle

The Colle sofa, designed by Studio Big, draws inspiration from the first Natuzzi models recognized for their hospitable style. This sofa harmoniously portrays the relaxation typical of Mediterranean life, providing a physical and mental space that welcomes intimate and social moments. Its internal structure recalls a friendly world, while the seat and back cushions lie in an informal and comfortable way. The design is distinguished by pleasant wrinkles on the upholstery, enhancing the softness and visual comfort.

Design by Bjarke Ingels Group

BIG-Bjarke Ingels Group is a Copenhagen, New York, London, Barcelona, and Shenzhen-based group of architects, designers, urbanists, landscape professionals, interior and product designers, researchers and inventors. Led by Bjarke Ingels, the studio is currently involved in projects throughout Europe, the Americas, Asia, and the Middle East. BIG's architecture emerges out of a careful analysis of how contemporary life constantly evolves and changes. BIG believes that by hitting the fertile overlap between pragmatic and utopia, architects can find the freedom to change the surface of our planet, to better fit contemporary life forms.

To ensure harmony in the projects, the Natuzzi Style Center carefully selects materials and coverings, creating a dialogue between them. In this case, Cassidy leather in Dark Brown has been paired with Borgospesso fabric in Bark. The harmonization of these coverings with woods and marbles will result in a moodboard that defines the final total look of the project. Each collection model offers multiple moodboards to adapt to various market geographies.

To ensure harmony in the projects, the Natuzzi Style Center carefully selects materials and coverings, creating a dialogue between them. In this case, Stromboli leather in Camel has been paired with Portavenezia fabric in Camel. The harmonization of these coverings with woods and marbles will result in a moodboard that defines the final total look of the project. Each collection model offers multiple moodboards to adapt to various market geographies.
